Annual Debian Conference

DebConf is the annual conference for Debian contributors and users interested in improving the Debian project, one of the largest Free Software projects worldwide. The Debian Project is an association of volunteer individuals who have made common cause to create an operating system comprised entirely of Free Software.

Once a year they gather and concentrate on the development and improvement of the Debian distribution. DebConf is a combination of concurrent scheduled talks, plenaries, development sprints, hacking time and ad-hoc meetings and sessions. In 2016, DebConf will be hosted in Cape Town, South Africa, for the first time.

Translated into 70 languages and supporting nearly a dozen computer architectures, Debian GNU/Linux provides over 43,000 ready-to-use free software packages. Debian is also providing the basis for other successful Linux distributions like Ubuntu or Tails.
